UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS AT ARLINGTON HOSTS BANDS OF AMERICA MARCHING BAND CHAMPIONSHIP SATURDAY OCT. 1

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – Outstanding high school marching bands from throughout Texas will compete in one of the nation’s most prominent marching band championships, Music for All’s Bands of America (BOA) Regional Championship, presented by Yamaha, at University of Texas at Arlington<sup>1</sup> on Saturday, October 1. The stadium is located at 1307 W. Mitchell St., Arlington, Texas. The University of Texas at Arlington Marching Band is hosting the event.

The 33 high school marching bands will perform in preliminary competition, evaluated by a panel of nationally recognized music educators and marching band experts. The top 10 scoring bands will advance to the evening finals competition, where the Regional Champion will be named. The University of Texas at Arlington Marching Band will perform in exhibition at the conclusion of finals competition at 10:15 p.m. The UTA Marching Band is under the direction of Matthew Luttrell and James Yakas.

“What a fan will experience may be very different than what they expect if they have not been following national caliber bands recently,” says Debbie Laferty Asbill, Music for All’s Director of Marketing and Communications. “These outstanding bands perform complex, entertaining and sophisticated shows, with exciting presentations and choreography, many with colorful staging and visual elements.”

Asbill says, “While the Bands of America Championship is a competitive event, it emphasizes the pursuit of performance excellence and the educational experience of participation. Music and arts education is a core and vital part of the American educational system. Music for All’s programs, including the BOA Championships, model, showcase and recognize excellence in music education.”
